PRESS RELEASE

Milan, 1 February - With reference to the press articles published today on some newspapers, we would like to specify that, as already previously announced, the theme of governance is under a process of analysis and study and, consequently, at the moment any concrete assumption of governance development is premature.